As part of our Jazz Masters Series, we present clarinet/saxophone master Aurora Nealand and drummer Peter Varnado with the Arrowhead Jazz Band (Rangers Jon Beebe, James Barry, and Bud Holmes) to perform traditional New Orleans and Jazz standards. An established bandleader, composer, performer, and improviser, Aurora Nealand has become a prominent force in the New Orleans music scene since she first arrived in 2005. Combining the “formal education” – a music composition degree from Oberlin Conservatory and training at the Jacques Lecoq School of Physical Theatre in Paris – with the “informal” experience of playing music in the streets and clubs of New Orleans and throughout the northern Hemisphere, Nealand has emerged as an innovative, sensitive and daring music creator and performer. She is most recognized for her performance on saxophones, clarinet, and vocals and has been at the forefront of the revival of New Orleans Traditional Jazz amongst the younger generation of the city’s musicians. After playing and learning as a sideman in established New Orleans Bands for several years, (Panorama Jazz Band, VaVaVoom, The New Orleans Moonshiners), in 2010 she formed her own traditional Jazz band “The Royal Roses.”

6:00-7:00 pm

Old U.S. Mint

The Friends of the Cabildo presents “Pete Fountain: A New Orleans Icon’s Life Half Fast” by Louisiana State Museum Jazz Curator David Kunian. Pierre Dewey Fountain, Jr. was born in New Orleans in 1930 (1930-2016) and become one of the most influential musicians to emerge from New Orleans. Fountain began playing clarinet at Esplanade Avenue’s McDonough 28 and by his early teens he was playing gigs on Bourbon Street. Later joining the Lawrence Welk Show band and then opening multiple clubs around New Orleans (on Bourbon Street and in the Hilton Riverside Hotel), Fountain recorded over 100 albums, was showcased on the Tonight Show with Johnny Carson 56 times and performed at every Jazz Fest from 1970 until 2014. Along with his fellow music club owner and long-time friend Al Hirt, they were the key influencers of the Traditional New Orleans Jazz Revival of the 1970s and 80s.

This program is part of the Friends of the Cabildo’s 2nd Thursday Lecture Series. Admission is free and open to the public. (For more information, contact 504.523.3939.)

As part of our Jazz Masters Series , we present drummer Shannon Powell with the Arrowhead Jazz Band (Rangers Jon Beebe, James Barry, and Bud Holmes) . Shannon Powell is a highly sought after drummer and percussionist who has achieved international acclaim for his commanding technique and style, rooted in the characteristic funky drum beats of New Orleans. As a youth growing up in New Orleans' storied Faubourg Tremé, home to many of the city's jazz performers, Powell was surrounded by music. By age six, Powell was playing drums regularly for his church, the First Garden Christ Church. It was a natural transition from the raw spiritualism and rhythms of his church to the driving grooves of traditional New Orleans jazz. Soon after, he began visiting and performing at the historic Preservation Hall alongside local legends such as Cîé Frasier and Freddie Coleman. From 1987 to 1992, Powell toured extensively with Harry Connick, Jr. During subsequent years, Powell has toured with Wynton Marsalis and Jazz at Lincoln Center, Marcus Roberts, Diana Krall, Dr. John, Earl King, the Preservation Hall Jazz Band and John Scofield.

Bella MIA Album Release Party. Bella MIA is a New Orleans trio specializing in blues, soul, and R&B. Brian Goldfinger began studying classical piano at age 4, but soon realized he was a jazzcat at heart. He studies finance at Tulane, but loves having music on the side to keep his sanity. And he's also the Keys player for Bella MIA. Alastair Bones has been playing the drums since he was 8 and hasn't looked back. Studying Jazz at Loyola, he is nurturing his passion for music every day. Matthew Jontiff grew up loving music, but didn't start to play guitar until 14. Since then, he has been entranced by the mystery and wonder of the instrument and all it has to offer. After spending two years in New York City, he moved to New Orleans to follow his dream of studying music. (For tickets and more information visit: http://www.musicatthemint.org/ .)

Dr. Rackle & The Sound Griots. Dr. Rackle and The Sound Griots was formed in 1995 by Raymond "Dr. Rackle" Williams in Hartford, Connecticut. Due to Hurricane Katrina in August 2005, Williams had to disband the group and has been working extensively with the Hot 8 Brass Band and as a freelance musician in various bands. This year Dr. Rackle has his heart set on forming the Sound Griots again, to bring the traditional, modern and contemporary jazz sound, to include bebop, modal, free form, and funk, to audiences everywhere. Dr. Rackle And The Sound Griots performs original music, as well as the music of Jackie McLean, Ellis Marsalis, Miles Davis, Charlie Parker, Clifford Brown, Dizzy Gillespie, Duke Ellington, Bud Powell, Thelonious Monk and Herbie Hancock as well as many other jazz greats. Talkin' Jazz – Fred Kasten continues his live interview series with New Orleans guitarist Brian Seeger. Mr. Kasten, a beloved jazz historian and radio host, interviews local artists that have elevated the jazz scene. Brian Seeger earned a Bachelor of Music, summa cum laude from Berklee College of Music, and a Master of Music in Jazz Performance from the University of New Orleans. Seeger returned to his alma mater to join the full-time faculty in 2007 where he teaches advanced improvisation, music production, applied strings, and music business. He also directs ensembles, mentors budding producers and recording engineers, and oversees the busy recording studio. His performance and recording credits include work with such diverse talents as Aaron Neville, Davell Crawford, Stanton Moore, Theresa Andersson, Cindy Scott, and his own group, the Organic Trio. He tours frequently in Europe and the United States with several bands, and has represented the U.S. on several State Department-sponsored jazz ambassador tours, including trips to Bolivia and Kazakhstan. A question and answer period will follow the interview.
